After breakfast, embark on a fascinating half-day city tour that tells the remarkable story of Medellin’s transformation.

During this approximately 4-hour guided tour, you will explore both the historical and modern sides of the “City of Eternal Spring.” Ride the famous Metro and Metro Cable system, a symbol of social innovation that connects hillside communities to the city center. Visit iconic landmarks such as Plaza Botero, home to Fernando Botero’s famous sculptures, and Plaza de las Luces, a striking urban space filled with illuminated columns.

Continue to the Comuna 13 neighborhood, once one of the most dangerous areas in the city and now a powerful symbol of transformation. Ride its unique outdoor escalators and learn firsthand how the city’s past has shaped its people and their hopeful outlook for the future.

The rest of the evening is free at leisure to enjoy Medellin at your own pace.
